Starting the Conference out in the open, well lets not worry about setting up the projector.

We had 50 people registered in just over an hour. 18 come from the Bible School in Kakamega. These people are hungry for the word.

Mike's & my room is on the right. Yes the cows leave souvenirs but they do a great job of keeping the grass cut. Remember we are in Africa after all.

These 4 ft tall Karibou Stocks are on top of a 30 ft tree. From my vantage point I can look down on.

Traveling temporarily finished. Taxi from Congo border to Kigali, than fly to Nairobi, then our favorite (haha) public transport to Kakamega. I've often marveled at how many people they can squeeze into one of those modified Toyota mini-vans. By removing all the factory seats, installing 3 or 4 rows of seats you can legally register the van for 11 or 14 passengers. You have a chose tight or very tight. But don't forget the luggage, you need space for everyone's bag. Not to worry there is sufficient space on top. A Final thought, you must cooperate with other passengers in order to get everyone in and seated.

On Tuesday the Police stopped the church van and wrote them a Citation for 19 people in the 14-passenger van, oops, they have to go to see the judge this morning.

The 4-month-old Shalom Community Church lead by Pastor Benjamin is renting one the Malava Town Council rooms for services. Monday we were to use the large conference room to start our Evangelism Conference, but as it often is someone didn't get the word and the Council gathered an impromptu meeting there. So we chose to start out in the yard under God's canopy with plenty of fresh air.

Tuesday's first day of visitation we had the class broke down into 15, 4 person teams. They returned shocked and amazed at having lead 26 to the Lord.

Wednesday they are told that in order to graduate everyone had to give the presentation. After an hour they came back with 46 names, addresses and phone numbers of the new believers.

Thank you friends and family for keeping us in your prayers. We are both healthy, happy and can clearly see God's hand at work.
